DOWIE'S COACH AND HORSES

ATTACHED BY OFFICER IN NEW YORK

Attorney Had Claim of $1,000 for Defending a Former Zionite—Dowie Continues to Denounce Newspapers.

New York, Oct. 26.—An attachment was served to day on John Alexander Dowie's coach and team. As the vehicle was being driven past the Fifth Avenue hotel a deputy sheriff jumped on the driver's seat, seized the coach team and drove off with them. The attachment is said to be for $1,000 and was secured by Attorney Farley, his claim being for services rendered in defending J. Luther Pierson, a former Zionite, who was convicted for allowing a child to die without medical assistance.

In his morning address to day Dowie said he had no right to the name of Dowie; that he didn't know who his own father was. The occasion for the statement was a certain letter published by a newspaper, purporting to show Dowie had cast off his own father. Years ago, Dowie said, he had painful revelations made to him that John Murray Dowie, to whom the letter was written, was not his father. Dowie again denounced newspapers and demanded the establishment of censorship to protect clergy, politicians, judges and business men from newspaper attacks.

In a broken voice, with tears streaming down his face and his body shaking with emotion, John Alexander Dowie stood on the platform of Madison Square Garden to night before an audience of 10,000 persons and announced that in truth he was not the son of John Murray Dowie, of Essex, Iowa, from whom he takes his patronymic, but of a British army officer of high family by a "Scottish marriage." He heaped vilification and denunciation upon John Murray Dowie, whom he declared had made his mother believe her marriage to Dowie's father was shameful and the army officer having been taken away by his relatives, his mother in the first flush of her shame had sought to give her son a name by marrying John Murray Dowie. The revelation was the result of publication of extracts of letters passing between himself and John Murray Dowie, indicating Dowie's repudiation of the latter as parent. Dowie addressed himself at great length to this subject, throughout his statement defending his mother and denouncing the Iowa man whom he claimed to have befriended when in need. He concluded his address with a bitter denunciation against the press for publishing letters relating to his paternity.

ROCKFELLER SHOCKED

New York, Oct. 26.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., asked the members of his Bible class yesterday if they concurred in the view held by some that a man cannot be a true Christian and at the same time a successful business man. Several of the members spoke up at once and the things that Rockefeller heard must have shocked him. One speaker said:

"The man who dabbles in stocks, the man who dumps a quarter of a million of dollars worth on the market and forces the prices down, and when the figures get low enough to suit him, buys it again, and in doing this, ruins the smaller holders, simply because he has the power of money behind him cannot be a good Christian. He injures others for his own selfish motives and is directly outside the teachings of Christ."

BASE BALL COMMISSION

CONTESTS FOR PLAYERS ARE DECIDED

Right of Major Leagues to Draft Players From Minor Leagues Established—New Rules Regarding Drafting of Players.

Cincinnati, Oct. 26.—The national base ball commission adjourned to night. The most important action was the establishing of absolute right of major leagues to draft players from minor leagues. This carried with it results affecting most of the twenty-one contests presented for players. The claims for August Derner, drafted by Cleveland from Columbus and claimed by Decatur, were withdrawn. Roscoe Miller, pitcher, was awarded to Pittsburgh Nationals instead of New York Americans. James Cockman and E. D. BENNETT WILL CASE

New Haven, Oct. 26.—Arguments in the Bennett will case were begun to night. During the day's proceedings counsel for Mrs. Bennett introduced a letter written by W. J. Bryan, in which he said her attorney's opposition to him was influenced by politics, the attorney being a Gold Democrat; also that the opposition of Bennett's relatives to allowing the $50,000 bequest to Bryan as the result of disappointment over not receiving more of the deceased's estate. Also suggesting to the widow that if she contested the will she would not receive more than $25,000. After the letter had been read, replying to a question of Stoddard, Mrs. Bennett's counsel, Bryan said he was convinced that there was more politics in Stoddard's position than law. Stoddard then began his argument in which he declared that "Mr. Bryan and his wife with Mr. Bennett arranged in Lincoln, Neb., a draft of this provision, which disposed of $50,000 of Mr. Bennett's money. No members of Bennett's family was present nor notified of the fact and he man associated with Mr. Bennett in business was present or notified of the fact." Continuing he said the reason Bryan did not want Bennett to make a direct bequest of $50,000 to him was that the law does not permit a lawyer to write himself heir to a fortune in the will of his friend which he prepares. He declared the letter states Bryan's will, not Bennett's. "In the shadow of her husband's death," said Stoddard, "Bryan made an offer to Mrs. Bennett that when as trustee he should pay to him the $50,000 bequest he would do certain things set forth in his letter to her, read in the testimony a few days ago. He said he did not anticipate a contest. That is incredible in a lawyer writing himself heir to $50,000 in a friend's will. The letter which he wrote foretold that he feared a contest. That letter introduced here to night after the contest had come, when it was apparent that he was not going to get that money, caused him to make one last desperate effort to get that widow to permit him to do as he pleases with the $50,000. Except I saw it under his own handwriting it would be incredible that any lawyer could write such a letter as this."

Bryan replied in a speech of more than an hour's length. He said he wrote the widow the letter he did because he believed other causes than law inspired her counsel. "Mr. Stoddard," said Bryan, "seems to feel that everyone should have invited in when the will was written. But that is not the way wills are prepared. People don't publish it in public notices nor do they perform their kindness in that manner. During the campaign men like the counsel for the contestants declared I did not know the law, that I was no lawyer at all, but now he has paid me the compliment of saying that I am a lawyer. Let him make every presumption that can be alleged against a lawyer in such a situation. There is no evidence that Bennett ever consulted me upon law matters. Our friendship was personal, political and in the way of business." Bryan told how he executed Bennett's will, placed it in a safe deposit vault and left it there without alteration for three years, though he had opportunity to make changes had he desired.

At the conclusion of the arguments, the judge announced he would reserve his decision.

The Representative of John MacGinnis Offers to End Litigation With the Amalgamated Copper Company.

Butte, Mont., Oct. 26.—From the steps of the court house here A. Augustus Heinze this afternoon addressed a mass meeting of miners, over 15,000 persons being present. As representative of John MacGinnis, Heinze in his speech made a counter proposition to the offer of the Butte Miners' union to purchase MacGinnis' stock in the Boston and Montana and Parrott mining companies and thus end litigation with the Amalgamated Copper company. Heinze's proposition covered in detail prices paid by MacGinnis for stocks he holds. The miners offered $50,000 for MacGinnis, Boston and Montana stock and $100 a share for Parrott stock. Heinze offers to sell the Boston and Montana for $20,000 and $5 a share for Parrott, with 8 per cent interest. This offer is made with the proviso that certain judgments against Boston and Montana and costs of various actions with reference to the stock and rights as stockholders be forever settled; and certain other conditions affecting other properties and holdings of MacGinnis and Heinze. He also requires an agreement that the Amalgamated mines shall be kept in continuous operation for the next year and that the present rate of wages be maintained at least three years. Heinze then proposes to submit the controversy with the Amalgamated to arbitration.

President Scallion, of the Anaconda company to night ridiculed Heinze's propositions and declared the company would not accept them. This dispels all chance of immediate settlement of the war between the two interests.

PARKHURST ON TAMMANY.

New York, Oct. 26.—Rev. Dr. Chas. H. Parkhurst devoted his sermon in Madison Square Presbyterian church yesterday to the issue in the coming election. He said it is a struggle of Christ against the devil as distinct in its elements and definite in its meaning as the temptation in the wilderness. The character of the candidates does not count, because no mayoralty candidate elected by Tammany has a moral right to break loose from the principles of the organization. "If I accepted the majority candidacy of Tammany hall," said Dr. Parkhurst, "I should consider myself under a moral obligation to steal if I could." One of the many long-haired freaks attached to the neighborhood of Madison Square by Dowie's presence there, got into Dr. Parkhurst's church, and from a front seat interrupted him occasionally during the first prayer with "please speak louder." Dr. Parkhurst paid no attention to him and after the prayer an usher led him out.

UNION LABEL

Republican County Ticket.

For Commissioner.

LUTHER A. BARR, of Arcadia.

Next week Tuesday will be the day for election. Let all remember it is a duty to turn out and elect Luther A. Barr for county commissioner.

One officer isn't much and many will feel it unimportant and will be tempted to stay away from the polls, but every citizen should regard it as his bounden duty to go to the polls and aid in the election of Luther A. Barr as county commissioner.

Luther A. Barr for county commissioner is a ticket all can honestly support. Ask his nearest neighbors, regardless of politics, and you will get only a good report.

The polls will be the place at which to serve the county next Tuesday by the election of Luther A. Barr as county commissioner.

There are many important measures to come up during the coming years and it is necessary that the county should have the best men at the head of affairs, and Luther A. Barr is one of those men who will be a good commissioner.

Luther A. Barr is a man tried and true on the field of battle when the shot and shell were flying thickest; he is a man who has not been found wanting since that time; now he asks the suffrages of his fellow citizens in his race for the office of county commissioner. No one can do better than support him.

ELECTIONS TO BE HELD.

Elections will be held in eleven states Tuesday, Nov. 3. Full state tickets are to be voted for in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Maryland, Ohio, Kentucky, Iowa and Mississippi, while in New York, Pennsylvania, Nebraska and Colorado a justice of the upper courts, regents of the state university or minor state officers are to be chosen. Municipal officials are to be selected in Greater New York, San Francisco and Salt Lake.

The Prohibitionists have a ticket in all the states except Colorado; the Socialists in all except Nebraska and Colorado; the Populists in two states—Iowa and Colorado, and the Socialist Labor party in three—New York, Massachusetts and Ohio. Fusion was effected in only one state—Nebraska, though the Republicans of New York endorsed the Democratic nominee for judge of the court of appeals.

The most interesting contests in the east are the state elections in Maryland and Rhode Island, and the municipal and county contests in the city of New York.

In Maryland the offices of governor, comptroller and attorney general will be filled. Edwin Warfield, the Democratic candidate, is fighting the issue with Stevenson A. Williams, the Republican nominee.

The offices of governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, attorney general and treasurer will be selected in Rhode Island. Samuel P. Colt heads the Republican ticket, and Lucius Garvin, the present executive, occupies the same position on the Democratic ticket. Last year Garvin upset the plans of the Republicans by securing an election, although every other successful candidate was a Republican.

Massachusetts will choose a full state ticket. All the Republican candidates were renominated. Bates, besides having been governor this year, was previously lieutenant governor for three years. Gaston, the Democratic candidate, was last year's nominee for governor.

Pennsylvania will elect an auditor general, treasurer and two judges of the superior court.

Court of appeals judge is the only state office to be voted for in New York. Judge Dennis O'Brien, Democrat, will have the race to himself, having been endorsed by the Republicans. The interest in New York will center in the municipal and county contests in Manhattan and Kings boroughs. Seth Low, the present mayor, is the fusion candidate, and George B. McClellan the Democratic nominee. Ex-Deputy Police Commissioner Devery is an independent candidate, and the Prohibitionists and Socialists have also made nominations.

In the west, the liveliest contest is in Ohio, where Myron T. Herrick and Tom L. Johnson, both of Cleveland, are leaders on the Republican and Democratic tickets, and Marcus A. Hanna and John H. Clark are struggling for members of the legislature which will elect a United States senator.

Iowa Albert B. Cummins is making his second race for governor, his opponent being Jeremiah B. Sullivan, who is depending on the Democratic vote, the Populists having their own state ticket in the field.

Governor Beckley is seeking re-election in Kentucky, the Republican candidate being Morris B. Belknap, who is making a very active canvass.

The Democrats will have a walk-over in Mississippi, neither the Republicans nor any opposition party having put a ticket in the field.

The contest in Nebraska is for a justice of the supreme court. The Republican candidate is John D. Barnes, the Democrats and Populists fusing on John D. Sullivan. Two regents of the state university are also to be chosen.

In Colorado the Democrats made a straight nomination for judge of the supreme court, the Populists putting up one of their own party.

The fight for municipal control of San Francisco and Salt Lake, particularly the former, is very warm.

NO CHANGE WANTED.

Brown County Republican: Much has been said derogatory to the present governor and the same would be true of any other man. It is the professional business of the opposing party and many disappointed and disgruntled members of his own party, to belittle Governor Yates, but when the criticisms are short of the falsehoods, the element of vindictiveness and the influence of self-seeking aspirations, the present governor's character, and administrative record command the respect of all fair-minded men. No one will claim that Governor Yates may not have men some mistakes, but what man in a like position would not? But Mr. Yates' mistakes have been in minor matters which have not compromised his integrity or the honor of his high office. But who is to be the judge as to what constitutes a mistake? Shall each man, with extremely limited means of knowledge as to circumstances of a given case, assume the attitude of judge and dictator, or shall we allow the governor and those who, with him, are familiar with all the facts and circumstances which influenced his action, have an opinion in the matter? But what constitutes a mistake? The actions which some condemn, others applaud. It will always be so, so long as men hold different opinions or their interests are affected favorably or unfavorably. Upon the whole, Governor Yates has given the people of Illinois a clean, honorable administration and should be continued in office, continuation of the same thing may be expected. This may also be true of some other candidates, but it is doubtful whether a change of incumbents would prove advantageous to the state.

THRILLING TROLLEY TRIP.

Experiences on a Record Breaking Run in Germany.

The Berlin correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, who was one of the small party on the Berlin-Zossen electric train when it traveled at the record speed of 125 miles an hour, thus describes it:

Every one on board was nervous and excited, even Dr. Schulz, the head of the state railways, and the famous electrician, Privy Councillor Misail and Herren Lachner, Zimmerman and Borries. All was under the direction of Dr. Reichel, who has conducted all the experiments.

Dr. Reichel got on in front and carefully scrutinized the motor car and inspected the wheels, brakes and springs with keen, quiet eyes. Then he turned a handle, and off we started, steady as a rock. The line under us was a solid mass of masonry, steel, cement and stone. Every yard a strong iron sleeper imbedded in cement held the steel rails in a vise.

As we approached Marienfelde the speed was increased, and we began to fly, but with hardly any oscillation. Trees, houses and telegraph posts shot past like lightning. But when Dr. Reichel gave another turn these objects became blurs, indistinguishable shadows passing us.

Then we drew up gradually and arrived at Zossen, having made fourteen miles and a half in eight minutes. We started back to Marienfelde and covered the same distance in the same time to a second.

"Now," said Dr. Reichel, "we shall see what she can do."

We squirmed. No one was comfortable.

Dr. Reichel took a careful look around, and off we went, the speed increasing every moment.

Past Mahlow, Dahwitz and Rangsdorf we clattered and the speed terrific—three miles and an eighth in one minute and a half!

It was a cool day, and the impact of the wind was unbearable, whistling through every crevice of the car. Yet we were all freely perspiring with excitement. Fourteen thousand volts had been employed to send us on our mad course.

WHAT IS RE-GO?

Re-Go Tonic, Laxative Syrup is a preparation originally put up for physicians' use, and it is still largely prescribed by the best practitioners. Its wonderful cures of Constipation and all attendant evils, such as Nervous Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Biliousness and Indigestion, have led the manufacturers to believe that a great service would be rendered to their fellow men by offering to the public this famous medicine in convenient form. They have such faith in the merits of the medicine that they offer a trial bottle free to any one who will cut on this notice and present it to Lee P. Alcott, Druggist.

FRUIT FROM PORTORICO

A Grower's Opinion of the Island's Oranges.

TO COMPETE IN AMERICAN MARKET

James Struthers of Bayamon Says This Winter Thousands of Boxes of Oranges From Wild Trees Will Be Shipped to the United States. American Growers Are Developing Many Groves in Upland Valleys.

"Porto Rico will be the orange island of the world, its coffee will come to have the same vogue in the United States it one time had in Spain, and its people will be lifted out of poverty and ignorance." This prophecy was made at the St. James hotel in Washington to a reporter for the Washington Star by Mr. James Struthers, orange shipper and grower of Bayamon, Porto Rico. Mr. Struthers lived in Washington from 1885 to 1895, for a part of that time being engaged in the produce commission business.

"Porto Rico," continued Mr. Struthers, "will become a sea girl garden. The people there are going to find gold in the golden fruit, just as the people of Florida did and as the orange growers of California do. Cold, which overwhelmed the Florida growers in 1894 and which threatens them in the Peninsula State every winter, is not feared in Porto Rico. The hurricane danger is a small one because the orange lands are in the upland valleys, wind sheltered by great hills. The late hurricane in Porto Rico did greatest damage on the low sugar lands of the coast and along the water courses. Comparison between central and southern Florida and Porto Rico as an orange land is all in favor of the latter. A high percentage, if not a majority, of the American orange growers in Porto Rico are from Florida.

"The orange districts of Porto Rico have a self evident advantage over southern California for the production of citrus fruits. Frost in Porto Rico is such a remote possibility that it is not to be considered. The island is well watered and has a bounteous rainfall. It is nearer to the markets of the Atlantic states both in the matter of time and charges than California. It is four days' sail from San Juan to New York, and it is an event when a fruit train crosses from California to the Hudson river in seven days. Porto Rico has plenty of cheap, faithful and willing field labor. It is not efficient labor as yet, but it will become so under American instruction and with the application of American field machinery and implements. The natives in the interior of Porto Rico are weak because they are underfed, but the main reason for their inefficiency is that there is no method in their work, and the only tool they know how to use is the machete. California's only conspicuous advantage over Porto Rico is that of daily or multiday shipments, but as the trade of Porto Rico is developed the steamship companies will provide frequent enough sailings.

"As to quality, the Porto Rico orange is as good as any other. Of course, there are good and bad oranges in the island, just as elsewhere, but I am sure it is a reasonable statement that the average orange of Porto Rico is superior to the average orange grown in any of the citrus belts of the United States. But the quality of an orange depends largely on the grower. He can, if he understands orange culture and has a favorable climate, make the kind of orange the public wants.

"This winter there will be thousands of boxes of Porto Rico oranges from wild trees shipped to the American market, and they will sell side by side with the orchard fruit of California. Cultivated oranges from Porto Rico will make a strong impression on the market three or five years hence. Many groves have been and many are being planted in the island, and yet the industry has scarcely begun.

"The coffee of Porto Rico will soon make itself felt in the United States market. There is no better coffee in the world outside of Arabia than that grown in our island. Millions of Americans who believe they drink coffee three times a day would not know coffee if it were poured out to them. Tons of chickory, roasted beans and peas are being drunk for coffee, while the Porto Rican berries go to waste. Porto Rico's coffee is strong in tannin, and the American palate will not tolerate this. The berry is shipped green to the United States and roasted by the American or 'light' process, which does not remove the tannin. This astringent quality is overcome by the French or 'dark' roasting process, and plans are evolving to give Porto Rican coffee this treatment and build up a demand for it in the United States by the distribution of samples.

"There are several thousand acres planted in cotton for the first time in twenty-five years. The quality is good and the yield fair. With proper cultivation it is destined to be a paying crop. Sugar is the money crop of the island. The acreage has been largely increased since the American occupation, but king sugar will have to take second place when the cultivated Porto Rico orange groves come into bearing.

The Navy's Winter Maneuvers.

The navy department has notified the various bureaus that maneuvers will take place in the Caribbean sea next winter, and commanding officers have received orders to prepare for the work. The strategic problems or war games in which the vessels will take part will take place in February, after the drills in routine work and marksmanship have been finished. Rear Admiral A. A. Barker will be in command.

FARMING FOR CHILDREN.

New Departure in Public School Education in Missouri.

Nearly 5,000 school children in Missouri are receiving instruction this year in the primary courses of agriculture, says a Columbia special dispatch to the St. Louis Republic. More than 100 teachers who attended the Missouri university last summer and took the course in agriculture and horticulture are giving instruction in those branches in the public schools this year with excellent results.

In the teaching of these branches to public school students special attention is paid to beautifying the school grounds and the yards and lawns of the children's homes. The school yard is planted in flowers, trees and shrubs and under the direction of the teacher is cultivated by the students. The teachers find that the students take great interest in the work, and they encounter very little difficulty in continuing the course.

It has been the aim of the Missouri university to encourage the teaching of agriculture in the public schools, and the efforts of the university are now achieving results. By next year agriculture and horticulture probably will be taught in a majority of the public schools of the state.

A series of bulletins in course of preparation which will be sent out to the teachers to be used as text books in the public schools.

YELL OF FARMER STUDENTS

Missouri Boys Choose Class Cry Both in English and Latin.

Missouri university has an agricultural yell, says a Columbia special to the Chicago Record-Herald. It can be uttered in both English and Latin and was adopted at a specially convened meeting the other day. Several yells were submitted, but this was the most popular:

Horses, cattle, sheep and hogs. Turkeys, chickens, ducks and dogs! Feed 'em, fatten 'em, make 'em thrive; Agriculture, nineteen five!

An agricultural student who is also making a specialty of the classics sprang an innovation by submitting the same yell in Latin. The suggestion was adopted with enthusiasm, though a few English words were found necessary for euphony. It goes like this:

Evis, oris, bos et sus. Zey, mais, et triticeus. Agriculture may thrive; We're the class of nineteen five!

Novel Test For Trumpeters.

The latest development in the walking craze in Paris is a proposal made by M. Rispaal, chief trumpeter of the Association Nationale de Preparation Militaire, that all trumpeters in Paris, military and civilian, shall march from Paris to Versailles, playing without stopping the ten regulation marches of the French army, says the New York Herald. As the route is eighteen kilometers long and contains a couple of stiff hills only people with strong lungs can hope to qualify.

Judge Guy C. Scott, of Aledo, recently elected judge of the supreme court from this district, was a Sunday visitor in the city and received the attention of a number of well known local politicians. MRS. STURM'S RECITAL.

Those who failed to attend Mrs. Sturm's song recital on Saturday evening missed a rare musical treat. Mrs. Sturm has a wide range of voice and her tones are pure and well sustained without the slightest degree of tremor. In the lyrical selections of Schubert and Schumann and "Two Old German Songs" (from the fifteenth century), her voice was particularly smooth and steady. Mr. Sturm's compositions, "Constasy" and "Would I Might Die," which are being sung with marked success in Germany, and Mrs. Sturm's "Expectation" were thoroughly enjoyed.

An interesting number was No. 7 (from Cycle "Heather Songs"), by Anna M. Tulke, a composer of great merit, whose works deserve greater recognition. In the closing number, "Ortrud's Curse" (Lohengrin), Mrs. Sturm's dramatic power evoked great enthusiasm. She was twice recalled.

Miss LaDuck's finished technique and artistic interpretation of Schubert's difficult "Impromptu in B," gave her audience great pleasure. In the three numbers rendered by Mr. Sturm he again showed himself complete master of his instrument. Special mention should be made of the Chopin Nocturne in F, which was rendered in the true Chopin spirit.

MAY HEAR MELBA. Melba and her company of artists will give a concert in Peoria Monday, Nov. 16, and naturally a great deal of interest is felt in a musical event of such moment. Peoria is feeling rather complacent over securing a date with the Melba company, but is willing to share the honors, as is evidenced by the fact that the city has secured special rates from all the railroads centering there. If ten or more persons from any point wish to attend a rate of a fare and a third will be granted. Several parties of Jacksonville musicians are being planned.

FT. MASSAC COMMISSION. The commission created by the act of the legislature providing for the purchase of the site of Ft. Massac and appointed by Governor Yates, held a session in Springfield yesterday and elected Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, of Bloomington, president and Secretary of State Rose, secretary. The abstract for the land has been prepared and was submitted to Attorney General Hamlin for investigation. The land will cost $3,500. The bill provided $10,000, but limited the cost of the land to $3,500.

THE BIRTH RECORD. Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Phillips, a son.

THE MATRIMONIAL RECORD.

RICHARDSON-WILSON. Sunday evening at 7 o'clock there took place in this city a wedding which was a surprise to a good many people. At the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson on North Main street, their second and last remaining daughter, Alice M., was married to John V. Richardson, who resides about five miles west of the city, just at the Point. The ceremony was witnessed by only the immediate members of the family and sister of the bride and husband of the latter, both of whom happened in accidentally in time to see the proceedings.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. F. Baker, pastor of the groom in the usual eloquent and impressive style of that gentleman. The newly married couple remained in the city Sunday night and Monday, and Tuesday morning expected to start east for a bridal tour.

Mr. Richardson is one of the best known gentlemen in the west part of the county. He has a beautiful home and a large farm and is one of the men who are blessed with an abundance of this world's goods. He is honorable and upright and greatly respected. The bride is one of eight sisters and has two brothers, but now all have gone to homes of their own and the parents are left as at first. The daughters are all excellent home makers and the men who have won their hearts and hands are to be congratulated. Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson are well known and have an excellent reputation for sterling integrity and industry. The Journal tenders congratulations.

DOWELL-LELAND. John F. Dowell and Miss Maude Leland were married at 7 o'clock Monday evening by Esquire Henderson at his office. Both are residents of this city and will make their home here.

JUSTICE COURTS.

On complaint of S. O. Shuff, made in Esquire Coons' court, Alva Grimmer was held on the charge of larceny, and waiving preliminary examination, was placed under bond of $100 to await the November term of court. In default of bail he was remanded to jail.

William Gunther was drunk and paid $3 and costs; Frank Precious, same charge, $3 and costs; James Longworth same charge, $3 and costs; Frank Bergland, same charge, $3 and costs; John Cosgriff, same charge, $3 and costs; W. J. Monroe, same charge, $3 and costs; William Crawford, same charge, $3 and costs.

In Esquire Gray's court a case of assault and battery was heard. George Abel, policeman at the opera house, had this charge preferred against him by Mrs. Simms, who claimed that her boy was struck by Mr. Abel while watching the play at the opera house Saturday night from the gallery. The defendant was found not guilty, there being no evidence to prove that any assault was made.

THE SCENIC EQUIPMENT.

In order that Richard III shall be adequately presented to the theatregoers of this city, the management announces that nothing has been left undone to enhance the attractiveness of this delightful comedy. Every picture will be given its proper setting. New and elaborate scenery has been designed for this revival. The costumes of the play is on a par with the scenic excellence, while the other appointments, properties and electrical effects help to place this production among the most notable ever sent on tour.

NOTICE. All persons having bills against the Jacksonville Driving club are requested to present same at once to O. C. Henry for settlement.

KILLED BY TRAIN.

Insane Man Ground to Death Beneath Wheels of a Wabash Engine.

An unknown man, supposed to be Frank Smith, was crushed to death beneath the Wabash passenger train due here at 8:37 Monday morning, while being brought to this city by City Marshal William Anderson, of Meredosia.

Some days ago a stranger appeared in Meredosia and went to the residence of Dr. Nevell. His manner made the people afraid of him and City Marshal Anderson was notified and attempted to take him into custody, when the stranger ran for the country and was not overtaken until nearly a mile away from the town. He was scantily clothed and had long hair and a rough, shaggy beard. He was placed in the Meredosia calaboose and upon inquiry gave his name as Frank Smith, of Hannibal. The authorities in Hannibal were telephoned, but no such person was known there. Later the stranger said he was from Iowa. Sheriff Rodgers of this county, was next telephoned and it was decided to bring Smith to this city, where it was intended to inquire into his sanity. Marshal Anderson boarded the train Monday morning with his prisoner and started for this city. Smith seemed peaceably inclined and the change of cars at Bluffs was made without any difficulty.

Just as the train was pulling into this city the brakeman came through the car and called Jacksonville, and a moment afterward Smith jumped up from his seat and ran to the back door of the car and this was the last seen of him until his mangled remains were found, his feet fastened under the trucks of the passenger coach. How he got himself in such a condition seems almost inexplicable, but the probability is that in jumping from the train he was thrown back against the coach and his feet caught in the trucks.

Considerable difficulty was experienced in extricating him and it was feared at first that it would be necessary to lift the coach from its trucks. His limbs were nearly wrenched from the trunk and he had ugly gashes and bruises about the body and head, caused doubtless from being dragged over the ties. When found he was to all purposes dead, but breathed spasmodically for ten minutes. Dr. J. W. Hairgrove was sent for and arrived promptly, but pronounced the man dead and stated that all sense of feeling had disappeared before he was removed from under the car.

Car Inspector Samuel Walker was the first man to reach him and he was assisted by the train crew in extricating him. Coroner Reynolds was notified and removed the remains to the morgue, and later in the day an inquest was held, but failed to bring out any further facts. City Marshal Anderson and D. F. Yeck, of Meredosia, were the only witnesses examined and their testimony was in substantiation of the above facts. The jury consisting of F. W. Allen, foreman; G. T. Schmalz, clerk; J. M. Summers, J. K. DeFries, W. P. Berry and J. S. McGowan, rendered a verdict in correspondence to the above and exonerated all parties interested from carelessness in his death.

NO REASON FOR IT

When Jacksonville Citizens Show the Way

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back as the annoyance of urinary disorders, the dangers of diabetes or any kidney ills when relief is so near at hand and the most positive proof given that they can be cured. Read what a Jacksonville citizen says:

F. A. Kaule, of 808 East Independence avenue, engineer at the Davis & Snyder ice plant on North Main street, says: "After being cured myself by Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Dr. H. Lee Hatch's drug store I recommended them to a friend who was suffering severely and a few days after seeing him almost as well as ever he said 'Doan's Kidney Pills are a splendid remedy.' I had such heavy bearing pains in the loins that I could hardly get up and I stooped down to do anything my back felt as if it would almost break before I could get straightened up. Medicine did not do me any good. When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills recommended I made up my mind to try them. I experienced a soothing sensation through the loins after the first few doses and in a short time the aches and pains disappeared."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents a box. Foster-McBarn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

UNCOOKED FOOD FEAST

Elementary Pabulum Advocates Enjoy a Novel Dinner.

TO COOKS AND STOVES, FAREWELL

A Ten Course Dinner in New York, including Twenty-seven Dishes, Prepared Without the Aid of a Fire—Eugene C. Christian, Physical Culturist, the Host—Nut Dishes a Feature—Sun Cooked Corn, Etc.

Simple diet is best, for many dishes bring many diseases, and rich sauces are worse than even heaping several meats upon each other.—Pliny.

Probably the most unique dinner ever held in the United States was enjoyed in New York by a large number of guests recently at the invitation of Eugene C. Christian, Mr. Christian, president of the Physical Culture Association of America, is well known as an advocate of correct living. He believes that most of the ills that flesh is heir to are the direct result of faulty diet, a diet in which predominate meats and heavy pastries and which are other foods frequently overcooked, and the aforementioned dinner was held to demonstrate the feasibility of living on uncooked or elementary foods, thus solving the problem of emancipating the housewife from the evils of the cook stove. In the entire ten courses, consisting of no less than twenty-seven dishes, not a single dish was cooked in or on a stove, and not a vestige of meat or pastry appeared. Notwithstanding these features, all present found rare enjoyment in the repast and averred that their hunger had been entirely appeased.

Many of the women, who, like the majority of housekeepers, had suffered for years the bondage of the kitchen and had experimented with cooks galore, vowed unhesitatingly that their season of servitude was now ended and that henceforth they would be following in the path blazed by Mr. Christian enjoy a glorious freedom never even dreamed of by housekeepers of the past. Then, too, the health of their families, the elementary foodists believe, will improve vastly through the introduction of the new dietary system, thus awarding them a double reward.

The menu placed before Mr. Christian's guests was as novel as it was interesting and was as follows:

Cream of Corn.
Unfried Wafers.
Ripe Olives. Celery.
Tomato Salad.
Stuffed Peppers. Blanched Almonds.
Macerated Cereal. Dutch Whipped Cream.
United Fruit Wafers.
Pecan Meats. Brazil Nuts.
Egg-nog. Unfried Bread.
Sweet Butter.
Fruit and Nut Medley.
Ginger Pudding. Whipped Cream.
Turkish Full Eggs.
Spanish Persimmons. Pignolias.
Cream Cheese. Date Butter.
United Fruit Wafers.
Ice Cream. Nut Fruit Cake.
Cereal Wafers.

The dishes were chosen with due regard to their combining qualities, and, in spite of their large number, no discomfort was caused. The cream of corn was served in cups and was made by extracting the juice from fresh green corn and combining it with milk and the proper seasoning. The unfried wafers and the unfried bread were distinct innovations even to those folk that considered themselves somewhat experienced in uncooked food affairs. On being questioned, Mr. Christian stated that they had been placed in a cabinet lined with electric lights, giving a temperature of about 140 degrees F., and dried. This process gives the wafers and bread a peculiar whiteness.

The sun cooked corn was cut from the cob about two weeks before the dinner and dried out of doors. To prepare it for use it was soaked in milk.

On a page of the menu was a quaint, expressing sentiments distinctly appropriate for the occasion. It read:

We may live without poetry, music and art.
We may live without conscience and live without heart.
We may live without friends, we may live without books.
And civilized man may now live without Cooks.

—Apologies to Owen Meredith—
In a speech Host Christian stated that the dinner was but one of a series that he proposed giving. He thus hopes to spread further the gospel of elementary foodism. By a series of exhaustive experiments he has demonstrated that uncooked food, the food that grows in the sunshine, among the breezes and the green trees, is man's natural food, and he is of the opinion that the closest we adhere to nature and her simplicity just so much further will we have advanced toward the solving of the all important food question and its relation to health.

RARE WHISTLER PICTURES.

Really Discovered Works of Noted Artist to be Shown in America.

William E. Curtis, the Chicago Record-Herald's correspondent, writing from London about the late James McNeill Whistler says: "After the death of the American artist not long ago his house and studios on the Chelsea embankment were found filled with portraits, sketches, etchings and other works which his friends knew nothing about, and they are said to include several examples superior to any that he ever exhibited. They have been inherited by Miss Rosalind B. Philip, his sister-in-law, executrix and only heir at law, for he was a widower without children. His estate was appraised at $62,000. Among these newly discovered works is a remarkable portrait of George Vanderbilt, which evidently was painted several years ago, but it has never been exhibited or discussed. Why Mr. Whistler should have retained it in seclusion has not been explained. Perhaps Mr. Vanderbilt can throw some light on the subject, but he has not done so, or perhaps it did not suit the artist, who was always very critical of his own work. There are several other equally mysterious portraits, all of them fine examples of Whistler's peculiar style. Those who have seen them declare that they are the best work he ever did."

"Whistler's friends in England want to make an exhibition of these works as an evidence of his greatness and as a rebuke to the Royal academy, which refused to elect him a member, but Mr. Freer of Detroit, Mich., who was one of Whistler's most devoted friends and owns about seventy of his pictures, has taken possession of his artistic effects and is packing them for shipment to the United States, where they will be exhibited at Boston next winter under the auspices of the Copley society. This arrangement causes much disappointment and chagrin in London, where it was expected that the first exhibition would be given. There is a story in circulation, which I cannot verify, that the collection will remain permanently in the United States as a monument to Whistler and be located either in New York or Boston. The matter lies with Mr. Freer, but he is not ready, even if he is able, to talk definitely on the subject."

YACHT AMERICA MAY RACE.

Famous Cup Winner May Sail Across the Ocean in Lighted Cup Contest.

According to Butler Ames, owner of the famous old schooner yacht America, winner of the cup that bears her name, the boat is very likely to be started in the transatlantic race next May, for which Sir Thomas Lipton has offered a $5,000 cup, says a Boston special to the New York Times.

"The America is staunch and sound today, and I have no hesitation in saying that I believe she can sail across the Atlantic next summer if necessary without mishap," said Butler Ames. "It is too soon to say anything positively, because the whole thing has been hardly considered yet," added Paul Butler, "but I know no reason that would make it impossible for the America to enter the race if it is to be free for all, as announced."

The America is at present out of commission, tied up at Chelsea bridge, in Boston, but she is staunch and sound and could easily be put in condition.

WHITE HOUSE GUARDS.

Giant Detective and Big Policeman to Watch For Cranks.

Besides the two or three secret service men, uniformed policemen and civilian guards always on duty in the executive offices at Washington a detective in plain clothes has been assigned to the waiting room, says the New York World. He is a giant and is expected to make short work of cranks, for whom it is his particular duty to watch.

A six foot policeman in uniform now stays very close to the north door of the White House, where most of the cranks call.

New Fuse for the Navy.

The navy department has recently placed a contract with a Pittsburgh man for the manufacture of 50,000 fuses for shells, says the Philadelphia Press. This fuse, or exploding device, was invented and developed by J. B. Semple of Pittsburgh. It is a fuse, so that the shell cannot be exploded by an accidental fall of even fifty feet, yet when fired from the gun the fuse becomes "armed" and is then so sensitive that the shell will burst on striking light resistance, such as a rope or the branch of a tree.

On Halloween.

Not all the elves that sport and throng
This night do wickedly mislead.
With fire of heaven born legends,
Poor souls, and word despite and wrong:
A pike silver winged does ride
The singing breezes all night long
And halts where sorrow sorrows bide.
World sickened men he touches; lo,
They grasp the boon their pillers
Eaten with withheld; their dead souls glow
With fire of heaven born legends,
And in a dawn of dreams they know
All fame and praise and ripe success.
Tis Halloween eve, when comes the gentle
sprite,
And heavy hearts rest deep, rest deep to-night.
And loveless maids that pine alone,
Tale buds, that close their eyes never seek,
Throb with a pure delight unknown,
For strong, for tender voices speak
My sweet, they whisper, and my own;
And life was dear where life was bleak.
And little babies children, born
To sin and toil and poverty,
Dream of a baby's rosy morn,
And run and wander far and free,
Through waving grain and rustling corn,
And wonder that such joy can be.
Tis Halloween eve, when comes the kindly
sprite,
On hunched hearts, sleep soft, sleep soft
To-night!

BISSELL'S SENSE OF HUMOR

Stories Told of the Former Postmaster General.

The announcement of the death of former Postmaster General Wilson S. Bissell was received with sorrow by the older attaches of the post office department, says a Washington special to the St. Louis Republic. Expressions of regret were heard on every side. Mr. Bissell, though brusque in manner, oftentimes and blunt in expression, had the faculty of making friends.

Many stories are told of him, some of them of a humorous nature. Travis Ross, who has served under more than a dozen postmasters general, said: "Senator Coke of Texas was a man of ponderous weight. He had long, shaggy eyebrows that were as prolific in growth as an ordinary mustache. He was good natured and always found time to pilot his constituents about the department. Coke was forever and eternally chewing a big quid of tobacco of the kind that is grown in Texas."

"There was a post office war on in earnest in some town in his state, and a half dozen or more of his constituents, together with the applicant who had been indorsed by the senator, came east to have the fight settled. Coke came over to the department and introduced his friends to Mr. Bissell."

"Now, Bissell," said Coke, and his jaws were working with regularity on a mouthful of plug. I want you to appoint this man (calling him by name) postmaster at—"

"You know," he continued, "that Texas is now composed of 2,000,000 good citizens."

"Yes," Bissell broke in, "and 1,000,000 of them are up here after office."

Ross told another story of a member of congress who came to the department one day and rushed into Bissell's office.

"I have no business to transact," said the representative, "just dropped in to shake hands."

Bissell looked up from his desk and quietly asked, "Have you a photograph of yourself that you might leave?"

"Mr. Bissell was one of the best men I ever served under," said Ross. "He was considerate of every one who worked about his office."

MONUMENT TO GENE FIELD

Plan of St. Joseph Children to Commemorate the Poet's Life.

The school children of St. Joseph, Mo., will erect a monument commemorative of the life and works of Eugene Field, the child's poet, who came into fame while a resident of that city, says the St. Louis Republic. A movement has been started to raise the necessary funds, and while it is too early to predict the success or failure of the financial part of the proposition those in charge aver that they have received such encouragement as to warrant the statement that the monument is assured.

It is proposed to erect it at the head of Lovers' lane, a bit of country road immortalized by Field in a poem by that name. At the junction of Lovers' lane, Ashland avenue and Rochester road there is a triangle thirty-five feet each way on which the marble shaft will be reared.

IN OCTOBER DAYS.

A Portrait of Forest and Field by John Burroughs.

Now comes the sunset of the verdant year.

When chemic fires, still and slow, Burn in the leaves till trees and groves appear.

Dipped in the sunset's glow, Through many stained windows of the wood.

The day sends down its beams Till all the acorn punctured solitude Of sunshine softly dreams.

I take my way where sentry cedars stand Along the bushy lane, And whitethroats stir and call on every hand.

Or lift their wavering strain; Where hazel bush holds up its crinkled gold.

And sends the loitering breeze, A mutual wreath and its leafage old That laughs at frost's decrees.

A purple bloom is creeping o'er the ash, Dull white against the day, While dusky cedars wear a crimson ash Of woodbine's kindled spray.

I see the sturdy oak tree's smould'ring fire Soft rolling through the wood, And yonder sugar maple's wild desire To match the sunset sky.

On hedge and tree the bittersweet has hung Its fruit that looks a flower, While alder spray with coral berries is strung.

The plaintive calls of bluebirds fill the air, Wandering by irresolute; The ruby kinglet flitting here and there, Fitful now his elfin flute.

Now downy shyly drills his winter cell, His white chips strewn the ground, While squirrels bark from hill or acorned dell.

A true autumnal sound. I hear the feathered thunder of the grouse On pause to note where hurrying mole or mouse.

Just stirs the solitude. Listen! the furtive flock-call of the quail Comes up from weedy fields; Beyond, the mellow thud of lonely flail Its homely music yields.

Behold the orchards piled with painted spheres, New plighted from bending trees, And bronzed husks tossing golden ears In agitated breeze.

Once more the tranquil days brood o'er the hills, And soothe the earth's toiling throng, A benediction all the landscape his That breathes of peace and rest.

10 cts. a pound

—is a fair price for baking powder. GOOD LUCK—the baking powder of positive purity—has always been sold at that price. The only reason for asking more for any baking powder is the desire for greater manufacturing profit. No more than 10c value can be put in a pound can. And it will not be necessary to use so much at a baking, if the powder is pure—a heaping teaspoonful is sufficient for a quart of sifted flour, when you use

GOOD LUCK Baking Powder

Its leavening force is greatest; quantity required the least; price the lowest. Result from its use—the lightest, whitest, surest, cheapest, most nutritious and wholesome of all baking. The demand for GOOD LUCK is so great that dealers buy it in carload and trainload lots. In every can is a picture of one of these freight cars—a section of a train—with an attractive offer printed on the back—save it! If your dealer doesn't sell GOOD LUCK, write and send his name. We will see that you are supplied.

BOER STUDENT AT CORNELL

Will Take Postgraduate Course.

The first Boer student who ever entered Cornell university and a member of the first delegation sent to the United States by the universities of South Africa arrived in Ithaca the other morning to take up graduate work on the hill, says the Ithaca Journal. His name is Leopold Reinecke, and he hails from Wellington, Cape Colony, having been graduated with the degree of B. A. from Cape Town university in December, 1902.

Mr. Reinecke is of Dutch descent, with a slight admixture of German blood, and has spent his life in South Africa. He speaks English fluently, as both that and Dutch are current in his native country. Mr. Reinecke took his college course in his native Wellington and while there was a pupil in botany of Miss Bertha Stoneman, '94, who is a sister of Mrs. G. D. Harris, wife of Professor Harris of the department of geology. Miss Stoneman persuaded her pupil to come to America to pursue his graduate work in her alma mater.

He will specialize in paleontology under Professor Harris, taking minors in physics and chemistry. He will spend three years at Cornell preparing for his Ph. D. degree and will then return to his native country to engage in field work in geology under the colonial government. He reports that this line of work is just beginning to receive the attention of geologists in Cape Colony, and the field is an inviting one to a young graduate.

Until the present year, so far as is known, no student from South Africa has ever entered an American university. Mr. Reinecke brings flattering credentials from his faculty in Cape Colony and is expected to prove an unusually good student. He calls himself an Afrikaner, but is closely akin in descent and native tongue to the Boers of the Transvaal.

HOW GIRLS BRAVED A FLOOD

Incident of the Great Storm at Boonton, N. J.

Out of the tale of lives lost, wrecked homes and destroyed railroad tracks near Boonton, N. J., by the flood caused by the recent rainstorm came a tale of the pluck and bravery of three young women, who coolly swam home late at night rather than spend the time in a train, says the New York Herald.

Their names are Alice Jenkins, Laura Hoffman and Jennie Temple, and they live at Mountain View, near Boonton. They are employed in New York and commute daily over the Lackawanna railroad.

The train on which they return home ordinarily was hours late Friday night (Oct. 24) and when the water washed railway station was reached they, with the other passengers, were informed that to get home that night was an impossibility. The men and other women on the train accepted the situation philosophically, but not so the three.

They are splendid swimmers and generally athletic. They were seen to whisper together for a few minutes and then disappear in the darkness. After an hour some one became nervous and a search was made. They were gone.

It was not until the next morning that the other passengers learned that the three, wandering out into the dark, unmindful of the flood, had coolly braved it all and, after a swim which swept them hundreds of yards down stream, had reached high ground on the other side. They had reached their homes later, somewhat disheveled, wringing wet, but triumphant.

After Nine Plants.

Professor C. S. Sargent, director of the Arnold arboretum, is making a tour around the world on behalf of the arboretum and was last heard from at Moscow, says the New York Commercial Advertiser. The main object of his journey is to search for specimens not already in the collections of the arboretum, and he has already sent home quite a number gathered in southern Russia and the Caucasus mountains. The party from Moscow expected to take the Transiberian railroad for a trip across Siberia and Manchuria to Peking, and then to Hongkong. Leaving Hongkong, they will visit the East Indies, especially Java, and then will return home via San Francisco, arriving probably in December.

To Explode Calvin's Sin.

Plans are under way for the erection at Geneva of an expiatory monument as an expression of deep regret on the part of the followers of John Calvin for the one great error of his life—the causing of the death of Michael Servetus by burning at the stake 350 years ago. The inscription on the monument will say that coercion in matters of faith is repudiated.

ANOTHER RAILROAD.

Springfield is soon to have another line connecting with one of the greatest railway systems in the world, the Chicago & Northwestern railway. The new road will enter the city over the tracks of the Chicago & Alton and will connect with the great lines of the northwest at Peoria. This will no doubt mean the double tracking of the Alton system from Bloomington to Girard at once and the placing of the double tracks between Bloomington and Peoria in the very near future. The Chicago & Northwestern railway company recently purchased several thousand acres of coal lands between Girard and Gillespie, a small station near Litchfield. The road is now constructing a railway from Girard to Gillespie, a distance of forty miles. The new line will connect with the Alton at Girard and by a traffic arrangement recently made will run over the tracks of the Chicago & Alton from Girard to Peoria, where they will connect with their own tracks and will tap the great northwest. A large force of men were recently taken to Girard and are now doing the grade work of the new line. The Chicago & Alton have taken over fifty cars of grading machinery to the scene of the work and more is being sent every day.

AT THE GRAND.

"Slaves of the Mine," a strong drama of the coal regions, was presented at the Grand last evening before a small audience. The play is full of action and afforded opportunity for some good work. The several parts were well taken, the success of Joseph R. Kettler, Louis Fitz Roy, R. Dalton and S. J. Garrigan being especially commendable. Jeanette Lansford, as Nellie Reid, was also good. The audience seemed well pleased with the play, which certainly deserved better patronage.

DAMAGE SUIT FILED.

J. W. Arnold, by his attorney, J. A. Bellatti, has filed a suit for $2,000 damages against the Wabash railroad. July 6, 1903, a number of horses and mules belonging to Mr. Arnold got on the right of way of the Wabash and were killed. The suit is based on this accident.

"IDEAL" COAL

The excellence of this fuel is proved by the large number of coal users who would rather have "Ideal" than any other.

Best way to understand this is to send us an order—for a bushel at 12 cents, or a ton at $2.00. "The proof of the pudding" is the way the pudding is cooked. "Ideal" coal proves the pudding—every time. Makes cook cheerful. Costs but little. Wood fires will be acceptable during these damp, chilly evenings and mornings.

THE DEATH RECORD.

STRAWN.

At 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon W. S. Strawn passed away at his home in Alexander. He had been ill a number of months with Bright's disease and was a great sufferer, but bore it all with patience. He was a son of the late James Strawn, of Orleans and grandson of the celebrated Jacob Strawn, at one time the well known cattle king of the west, and was about 50 years old at the time of his death. His wife, who survives him, is a daughter of Squire Mason, formerly of Alexander, and a highly estimable lady. Mr. Strawn spent the early years of his life as a farmer, but later went to Alexander and bought the general store belonging to Dr. E. F. Baker, now of this city, and carried on the business for a number of years and later gave it up and turned his attention to auctioneering, in which he was quite successful, and also for some years was agent for manufacturers of agricultural implements, selling large quantities of goods. Mr. Strawn was a genial, whole souled gentleman, kind to his family and popular with all his neighbors and every one who knew him best. He was upright in his dealings and honorable with all men. Two brothers, Jacob and John, have preceded him to the world beyond, and three, James, Joel and Charles, remain.

William S. Strawn was born July 28, 1853, in this county. He was married to Miss E. Rosa Mason April 9, 1874, and to this union were born four children, two of whom, Mabel Lillian and William S. Strawn, died in infancy. One daughter, Mrs. E. J. Kumble, of this city, and one son, Charles M. Strawn, besides his wife, survive him.

The funeral will be conducted from Antioch church Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock. Interment will be in Antioch cemetery.

DYER.

John A. Dyer, an old resident of Morgan county, died Monday afternoon at his home near Pisgah at 5:30 o'clock, after five months' suffering from a complication of diseases which he endured patiently, death coming as a relief to his suffering. He was born one mile west of Jacksonville Sept. 22, 1848, and had lived in this vicinity the greater part of his life and engaged in farming. He was always jovial and had a good word for every one. He was married to Tacy Ann Daniels March 28, 1872, at Independence, and to them ten children were born—one dying in infancy. He leaves his wife and the following children: Mrs. Ella Sample, Mrs. Mary Scroggins, living east of the city; Wilson, Mae, Bertie, Grace, Roy, Alvin and Ernest, all at home. There are also three grandchildren and three sisters and one brother, Olive Jefferson, living south of Jacksonville; Amanda Seoby, of Kansas; I. J. Dyer of Pittsfield, and Winnie Mitchell, of New Berlin. He leaves also a host of friends.

By this death the community has lost a good citizen and neighbor; a devoted husband and a kind and loving father. He became a Christian when a young man and united with the Union Baptist church.

The funeral will be held at the church Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock.

Mr. C. J. Edmonds, of Lincoln, Ill., traveling solicitor for a large printing house, who is well and favorably known throughout central Illinois, says under date of May 11, 1903: "I have used Hart's Honey and Horehound for the cure of Coughs and Colds in my family for the past two years and have always found the medicine to be all that it is recommended to be. We always keep a bottle of it in the house." Hart's Honey and Horehound is undoubtedly one of the best cough medicines ever compounded. It contains no opium or other stupefying drugs and is the safest in use for small children. Large bottles 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Lee P. Alcott, druggist.

HOW OLD IS ANN?

If Mary is 24 years old and she is also twice as old as Ann was when Mary was as old as Ann is now, Ann is 18 years old, of course.

How old was Ann when Mary was as old as Ann is now? The problem says Mary's age is now twice what Ann's age was at that time. Mary's age is now 24, but 24 is twice what? Why, 12, of course. Now we have Mary's age, 24 at one time, and Ann's age, 12 at another time. Between these two ages there is a difference of 12 years. Now, to bring these two ages to meet at a common point, we must count Ann's age as much forward from 12 years as we must count Mary's age backward from 24 years—that is, we must "split this difference." After splitting this difference of 12 years we find that we must add 6 years to Ann's 12, which gives 18, and subtract 6 years from Mary's 24, which also gives 18. There you are.

LOOKS WELL FOR CORN.

A resident of this city who has traveled extensively over the central part of this state during the past two weeks, has just brought things to say regarding the likelihood of a good corn yield. He said: "I have traveled over a number of counties and in every one I find satisfactory prospects of a good output. I think it can be said without stretching the truth that there is going to be more than an average yield. It is true that some corn, which would not have developed had frost kept away until November, has been cut, but this is owing to the lateness of getting into the fields in the spring on account of the continued wet. But that which was planted in anywhere near a reasonable time is going to make a fair yield. I noticed in riding along the country roads that the ears are plentiful, and the majority are hanging down, which is a sure sign that the ears are heavy. And the ears look exceptionally large around. This might be due to thick husks, but I think the ears are developed to an unusual size. Another noticeable feature about the farms this year is the abundance of the old-fashioned yellow cow pumpkins. The season seems to have been especially adapted for the growth of these vegetables. Take everything into consideration and I believe that this season has been one especially fortunate to the farmers of this part of the state."

CRACKER'S BEND.

Carlin C. Berryman was in the Bend Friday looking after his interests in the coming election.

Rev. Mr. Caywood was doing business in the Bend Thursday. Bro. Caywood was invited to preach at the chapel Friday night, but his business would not admit.

Newton Gish loaded a house on two wagons and started up Blackberry hill with it, but stuck when he got about half way up, completely blocking the highway. We have not heard whether Newton intends going to housekeeping where the house is and cutting a road round it or moving the house farther. Either will do.

Newt. Braner has a very sick baby.

Miss Clara Jacobson, of Arenville, visited friends and attended Sunday school in the Bend Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Newt. Gish have a new baby girl.

Elder J. L. Scott, of Pleasant Plains, filled the pulpit at the Primitive church Sunday morning. Elder Scott is a fluent speaker, well versed in the Scriptures and an orator. His illustrations were simple and to the point. His oratory, at times, held his hearers spellbound, when he would with a few sentences bring them to a realization of their present needs and admonish them to live lives that would shed an influence for good. This was considered by many the best sermon ever preached in the house.

Oscar Petefish, wife and daughter Katie made a pleasant call at Love Oak Sunday evening.

J. O. Kennedy, our assistant superintendent, conducted the Sunday school Sunday afternoon.

METHODIST SCHOOL

May be United Under one Board of Control—Dr. Harker Does not Favor Plan for Woman's College.

Dr. J. R. Harker will go to Evans-ton Thursday to attend a meeting of educators to be held there. The affair has been arranged for to commemorate the thirtieth anniversary of the connection of Dr. Fiske with Northwestern university. Dr. Fiske has been at the head of the preparatory department at the university continuously for thirty years and the record is a very unusual one. A large gathering of educators is expected and there will be several symposiums of interest to schools and colleges.

This assemblage, however, has no particular bearing on the plans whereby all, or nearly all, of the Methodist educational institutions in the country may be united under one general supervising body of directors, with Northwestern university as the head, and front, which has been disclosed by President Edmund James, of the Northwestern.

As evidence that the smaller institutions are ready for such a union, President James declares that already two colleges have asked to be taken under the protection and management of Northwestern, while the university has already annexed two preparatory schools.

President James stated that all of the affiliated institutions would be known as "Northwestern." His estimate is that there will be thirty such. The most important Methodist-Episcopal institutions that would come within the range of President James' plan are: Albion college, Albion, Mich.; Allegheny college, Meadville, Pa.; Baker university, Baldwin, Kan.; Baldwin university, Berea, Ohio; Boston university, Boston; Central Tennessee college, Nashville; Clafin university, Orangeburg, S. C.; Clark university, Atlanta; Cornell college, Mt. Vernon, Iowa; Du-Pauw university, Greencastle, Ind.; Dickinson college, Carlisle, Pa.; Fort Worth university, Fort Worth, Texas; Illinois Wesleyan university, Bloomington; Illinois Woman's college, Jacksonville; Kansas Wesleyan, Salina, Kans.; Mount Union college, Alliance, Ohio; Nebraska Wesleyan, University Place, Neb.; Ohio Wesleyan, Delaware, Ohio; Puget Sound, Tacoma; Soio college, Soio, Ohio; Simpson college, Indianola, Iowa; Syracuse university, Syracuse, N. Y.; University of Denver, Denver, Colo.; University of South California, Los Angeles; Upper Iowa university, Fayette, Iowa; U. S. Grant university, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Willamette university, Salem, Ore. These have a total of 16,200 students.

Dr. Harker does not favor the plan so far as the Woman's college is concerned, though he can see the advantages for some other institutions. In speaking of the college recently, Dr. Harker said: "I am spending at least half of my time now away from Jacksonville looking after the interests of the college, for we must be continually adding to our roll of friends. We have all the students we can well take care of now, but I am hoping for still larger facilities next year. It may seem foolish to you; it may seem to you that I am a blind enthusiast on this subject; but I honestly believe that some day the Woman's college will rival Northwestern university in size, equipment and attendance. There are reasons, too, for this hope when we consider the field from which we have to draw. I think about it often, plan for it a great deal and am firmly convinced that the future holds great things for the Woman's college."

Owen Dunn, of Benton Ferry, W. Va., writes: "I have had kidney and bladder trouble for years, and it became so bad that I was obliged to get up at least a dozen times a night. I never received any permanent benefit from any medicine until I tried Foley's Kidney Cure. After using two bottles I am cured." Sold by J. A. Obermeyer, City drug store.

HATCHES SURPRISED.

Remarkable Result of Business Enterprise and Foresight.

When Hatch, the enterprising druggist, rather than await the ordinary methods of introduction, urged the Dr. Howard Co. to secure a sale quickly in Jacksonville for their celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia, by offering 60 doses at 25c, they did not anticipate the phenomenal success that has resulted.

So much favorable talk has been caused by this offer and so many new friends have been made for the specific that the Dr. Howard Co. have authorized Druggist Hatch to continue this special half price sale a little longer.

In addition to selling the regular bottle of Dr. Howard's specific for 25c, Hatch has so much faith in the remedy, from seeing what it has done for their customers that they will refund the money to any one whom it does not cure.

Any person who is subject to constipation, sick headache, dizziness, liver trouble, indigestion or tired feelings ought to take advantage of Hatch's offer. Remember, Dr. Howard's specific is absolutely free unless it cures, and even then, at this special price, the cost is but a trifle.
